DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

425 N. Stokes St., is a two and a half story, three bay wide Italianate frame dwelling on a low stone foundation. Located on N. Stokes St. facing west, it was built as a rectory for St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church in 1862. The house and the former church building next to it on the north are both separated from the street by a low ashlar granite wall, the coping blocks of which are five inches in length and fastened with two kinds of iron pins. The house, used as a private residence, is covered with asbestos shingles and painted white with black trim.

An above grade seven bay veranda extends across the front and around the entire south elevation. The veranda has a flat roof with a molded cornice supported by turned and chamfered posts and a fence post balustrade.

Windows are arranged evenly on the front elevation. On the first floor they contain 1/1 light double hung while the second story has 6/6 light sash and the small row of attic windows have two light sash. This arrangement is consistent throughout the house.

The main entrance is in the north bay, front elevation. A paneled door with beveled glass in the upper half is framed by narrow three light sidelights containing stained glass and a large three light transom from which the stained glass has probably been removed.

A rectangular addition extends from the second story, south elevation above the porch; it is either an altered oval or a bathroom addition.

The house has a low hipped roof with a molded box cornice supported by paired brackets. The roof, which appears to be shingled with asphalt, has two brick chimneys at the north end.

The house has an above grade front and side yards. In the backyard are connected frame outbuildings, stables and a garage.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

425 N. Stokes St. was built in 1862 as the rectory for St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church. Services were held in a granite building next door until 1907 when the new St Patrick's Church was built on Congree Ave. Remaining in their original location are the granite foundations of the old church, now surmounted by a new structure, and the low granite wall enclosing the church foundations and the rectory. The former rectory is a two and a half story three bay by two bay building with a row of small windows in the attic story and a bracketed cornice. Located two block north of it is a house combining Italianate and Greek Revival features which closely resembles it. See HA-1109
